

Grzegorz Milka

e-mail: grzegorzmilka@gmail.com

Education

- University of Warsaw - Faculty of Mathematics, Informatics and Mechanics
Double Degree Program in Computer Science and Mathematics 2010–2015
Received Bachelor's degree in Mathematics
Received Master's degree in Computer Science with honors

Experience

- Senior software engineer at Google in Zürich October 2015–now

Duties

- Tech lead in the Account Compromise Protection organisation. Responsible for systems and policies that protect Google accounts from unauthorized access and further harm to Google users.

- Internship at NVIDIA in Santa Clara June–September 2014

Duties

- Research and implementation of low latency, reliable messaging transport layer network protocol.

- Internship at Peerson research project — Cryptographically secure distributed online social network at Royal Institute of Technology in Stockholm June–August 2013

Duties

- Design and implementation of a prototype of Peerson project with design of nonstandard cryptographical protocol used in DHT.

- Programming Internship at Nebulostore Project June 2012–

Duties

- Developing a network communication layer for distributed peer-to-peer storage system suitable for various applications including distributed online social networks and persistent backup systems.

Achievements

- Algorithmic Skirmishes - National programming competition, University of Warsaw, 2012
Finalist
- Olympiad in Informatics, Ministry of National Education 2010
2nd Place
- Olympiad in Economic Knowledge, Ministry of National Education 2009
2nd Place
- Championship in Team Programming in Opole, Opole Polytechnic Institute 2009
Winner

Further resources GitHub: github.com/gregorias, blog: gregorias.github.io